French Are Told Long-Awaited Union Is Now Fact: Giraud

LONDON, June 4.—(CP)—Gen. Henri Giraud in a broadcast from Algiers tonight told the French people that "the union you have so long awaited now is accomplished."

Giraud talked on the same program as Gen. Charles de Gaulle but Gen. de Gaulle's broadcast was jammed so much that it could not be recorded by the Associated Press Monitor here. Gen. Giraud spoke of building up an African army and then said:

"But there is another French army to which I am speaking mainly now—the French army at home, without arms, without flags, the army of the French people who put up individual resistance, who sacrificed all and who wait for the great moment, the army of prisoners, my comrades, whom I knew and who keep the hope of their flame burning."

He went on:

"French traditions always have been allied with British traditions. 'Great Britain has been the first defender of liberty against Fascism in Europe.'"

He then paid tribute to the British, American and Russian armies and said: "Now that union of all Frenchmen is achieved, France once again takes her place in the ranks of the United Nations."

"First comes the liberation," he said. "Then comes liberty. Frenchmen who suffer soon will hear the sound of our guns."

Fruitless Search For Lost Airliner

LONDON, June 4.—(CP)—Rescue planes searched the Bay of Biscay until late last night without finding any trace of survivors of the missing Lisbon-to-London airliner which was attacked by Nazi fighters Tuesday. It was announced today.

At the same time the Spanish embassy here denied an Axis radio report quoting a Madrid source as saying that the Spanish flying boat Exevista Number had picked up six survivors of the plane.

Petain Declares Allied Air Raids Are 'Inexcusable'

LONDON, June 4.—(CP)—The radio today quoted Marshal Petain as saying in an interview that "British-American air raids are a form of warfare for which there is no excuse."

The interview was published in the Petit Parisien, the broadcast said. Both the newspaper and the radio are under German domination.

Petain also was reported to have said France's future "let us have patience, stubborn courage, total discipline. Then the future of France will not be dark."

The Chink in the Axis Armor

There is strength, and we may as well admit it, in Hitler's ability to mobilize the forces of hatred and prejudice against the United Nations. In this respect he has selected his ground very carefully, and if we try to overcome him on this terrain of his own choosing we shall lose our battle.

Hitler's source of power in Germany, the rise of the Nazi and Fascist parties and of the German people—indeed the very existence of the Axis itself—were all made possible by certain inherent weaknesses of the old post-Versailles world structure. There were, and we may as well admit it, disaffection, disunity and sporadic popular tumbling and boiling in the wake of the Peace Settlement of 1919.

The entire line-up of national and social forces that we call the "Revolution of Hitler" is due to the fact that he is the only one possible by his prompt recognition of the opportunities that the "Little Man" of Mass Politics

Lewis to Recommend Miners Return to Work

New National Executive of I.O.D.E. Takes Office Here

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(AP)—John L. Lewis announced today that he would recommend the return of the mine workers to their jobs on Monday.

In a suddenly-announced retreat from his adamant stand, the U.M.W. chief disclosed he has written this reply to a letter from Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, the federal mine boss:

"I have your letter of June 4. I have no power to direct. I shall, however, recommend to the policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America that it direct the mine workers to return to work on Monday, June 7."

"Sincerely yours," (Signed) JOHN L. LEWIS.

ICKES' LETTER

ICKES' letter had said: "An operator of the coal mines on behalf of the United States government. I expect that you will inform the members of the United Mine Workers of America to return to work on Monday, June 7."

Lewis, whose union members have been idle since Tuesday, did not immediately announce when the policy committee would be convened. The members are in Washington and can be assembled on a couple of hours' notice.

Lewis, who is earning $250,000 a year, was distributing copies of his letter to the press. He was not available personally for further comment immediately.

The United Mine Workers' chief decision appeared to solve the time being, at least, a grave crisis which had almost completely paralyzed the coal industry in the United States.

It is understood that Hitler's command will be purely at headquarters. He will not extend his activities to field command.

The task of directing the general war effort of those parts of the Reich not under Axis control was taken up by the new "commissar for national liberation."

Stalin, Roosevelt Accord "Excellent"

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today that the agreement between the Russian and Premier Stalin of Russia is excellent in content.

He said in a press conference on the return of his special emissary to Moscow, Joseph G. Davies.

The President made his brief statement when asked whether the Russian situation was such as to require a change in the policy of the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt, referring to the Soviet leader as Marshal Stalin, said Davies had brought back a letter and that the understanding and accord between the president and Stalin is excellent.

Davies left Washington about a month ago with a sealed letter to Stalin.

Warships Again Bombard Island Of Pantelleria

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, June 4.—(AP)—British warships have bombarded the Italian fortress island of Pantelleria for the third and fourth times this week, hurling shells into the harbor and battery areas, it was announced today.

Both Wednesday night and Thursday morning the ships stood off and pounded the rocky island in duplication of their double assault at the start of the week. There was some slight return fire from Italian batteries, but as in the two previous attacks the Royal Naval units were reported to have suffered no damage or casualties.

Bombard day and night by R.A.F. and American planes in the air also, Pantelleria's shore gunners could reply but weakly as the British ships raised their employment.

It is estimated war expenditures included $600,000 for the army; $200,000 for the air force; and $200,000 for the navy.

Assessments are to be increased. The disabled ex-servicemen's pension of 10 shillings a week, making it 15 shillings if qualified, is the weekly economic pension. The disabled man is married, his wife's allowance will be £1 weekly with 10 shillings for each child.

War widows are to be granted an extra 10 shillings. Age benefits under National Social Security are to be raised to 25s 6d per week from the present figure of 20s.

Dr. Daffoe's Body Reaches Toronto

TORONTO, June 4.—(AP)—The body of Dr. Allan Roy Daffoe, former physician to the Dionne quadruplets, died Wednesday at North Bay, arrived in Toronto today for his funeral which will be held at Riverside Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon.

The body will lie in state at the home of his brother, Dr. William A. Daffoe, until tomorrow.

The body of the son of the famous Callender, Ont., physician, has been delayed in his flight from the east coast but is expected to arrive here this afternoon.

President, Cabinet Are Driven Out in Army-Led Uprising

By W. W. COPELAND
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin.
Copyright, 1943, by British United Press

BUENOS AIRES, June 4.—(AP)—A military revolution today smashed through feeble opposition in the outskirts of Buenos Aires, seized the government buildings in the great Plaza De Mayo and drove out President Ramon S. Castillo and his cabinet.

The revolutionaries, under leadership of former war minister Gen. Antonio Ramirez, demanded free elections, fulfillment of pledges for American collaboration and a diplomatic break with the Axis powers.

"The revolution is a total success, but Castillo has not yet resigned," Ramirez told the British United Press as he triumphantly took possession of the presidential palace.

Gen. Antonio Ramirez, who led more than 1,000 troops against the capital as Castillo fled to the harbor, said the uprising was a complete triumph.

A Montevideo radio broadcast this afternoon said a battle was in progress at the suburban Palermo military and air base.

"The aviation branch energetically responded to our manifesto," Ramirez said in regard to the army proclamation calling for overthrow of Castillo and his cabinet. Castillo has not yet resigned, Ramirez said. "The government will be issued later this week."

The centre of the capital was being restored, the revolt leaders said. No reports of disturbances in the provinces. Normal conditions were being restored, the revolt leaders said.

The foreign minister in the Castillo cabinet, Enrique Ruiz Guinard, and his family were reported to have taken refuge in the Chilean embassy and there were reports that Castillo had gone to the provincial capital of La Plata in a vain effort to rally resistance.

Greek Patriots Capture Village

ANKARA, June 3.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Greek patriots have captured the Italian-held village of Mouzaki in the Pindus mountain region of the Greece-Greek border, killing 300 Italians and taking 600 prisoners, information from Greece was received today.

The restless activity of Greek guerrillas was confirmed in a German telegraph agency report received in Istanbul recounting attempts by irregulars to take three Bulgarian-occupied towns.

The German report said the guerrillas first attacked the village of Mouzaki and then moved on to capture the village of Kozani and the village of Pindus. They then turned on a third village, Kozani, and were driven away after a pitched battle.

Adolf at the Helm?

Berlin claims the sinking of only 372-000 tons of Allied merchant ships during May, against 415,000 claimed for April and 381,000 for March. If the new figures are as widely exaggerated as some monthly claims are known to have been, the 372,000 can be cut in half. But assuming that for once the Berlin adding-machine operator has not pumped out too many buttons than he should, the figures strikingly demonstrate the failure of the spring U-boat offensive, thus far to live up to the advance notices.

It will be recalled that some weeks ago an intimation came from Berlin that Herr Hitler was turning over the command to his Generals and would take personal charge of the submarine campaign. The indicated reason was that Hitler was considered in the circumstances to be the more important branch of the war business, wherefore it was to have the benefit of the possible attack on the Fuehrer himself. The real reason probably was that after Stalingrad the Generals told the Corporal they would no longer serve under him, and he was forced to mess things properly on land he had better go and try his luck at sea.

Dr. Goebbels' figure for Adolf tend to substantiate the story that Adolf in person took over the direction of the U-boat operations. Unless appearances deceive, submarine campaign is being conducted wind up about as the Stalingrad misadventure did. There is evidence of the Hitler touch in the one as in the other.

The Crowded Cars

To put it in blunt language, the war has been an unparalleled boon to Edmonton's street railway system. Its problem is no longer how to draw patronage, but how to handle the business that swamps at rush hours. No one who uses the cars or buses regularly need be told that they are carrying more passengers than they ever carried before.

But how many more is shown in the figures for the first five months of the year. More than twelve and a half million people rode the cars and buses in the period, 50 per cent more than did so in the corresponding months of last year. And it was not all because of the weather and heavy snow in January and February. The figures for May were up 35 per cent from those of May, 1942. Full employment, scarce gasoline and the fact that the conditions which play large parts in crowding the cars, and these factors operate in all kinds of weather.

All this is very satisfactory from the standpoint of street railway economy, and from the point-of-view of the taxpayer who in one way or another would have to foot the bill if the city-owned enterprise could not pay its way. But there is another feature not so agreeable to the patrons of the system. It is the crowding of the bulk of the population. The cars and buses are crowded and there isn't a ghost of a chance that they will continue to be crowded. New cars and buses are being ordered, but they are not being built. The same goes for trolley buses. The only hope in sight is that the scarce gasoline business may—may—be obtainable over winter months. So it will have to be "standing room only" at the rush hours as far as anyone as anyone can be expected.

By and large the street railway is making a pretty good job of handling an unexpected, suddenly developed, and steadily expanding business under the best of conditions of unprecedented difficulty. If more passengers are to be carried there will have to be a considerable increase over the slack hours of the forenoon and afternoon. That is where the planners come into the picture. If they will do their job, the cars and buses will be able to travel in comfort, make things pleasant for those who must travel in the busy hours, and ease a situation about which there is not much else that can be done.

Slow-Downs and Tie-Ups

Allied officials in London estimate that patriots in the occupied countries have cut down or kept down the production of war supplies for the Axis by some countries by a margin of 22 per cent. They have done so and are doing it by refusing to work, by faulty workmanship, by looting on the job, and in some instances by blowing up or damaging plants or machines. As the sabotage is everywhere and always on the alert, it is by no means surprising that in time while pretending to work that the slow-up is mainly accomplished, the opportunities for active sabotage being relatively few and the results great.

This is good news for the Allies and will be hailed with great satisfaction throughout the United Nations. What the German leaders and their bosses and agents think about it is plain enough. They are shooting and killing and fining and putting out incendiary bombs and doing everything else that is in their power to bring about a standstill as to what slackened production involves for their armies and for their prospect of winning the war. They know that a day without a munitions shop, or a power plant, or in a coal mine or in an iron mine, means fewer tools for their fighting men, longer time to make the guns, the failure to gain objectives or the loss of ground, finally gained.

But people in Axis countries should do something more than chuckle at the troubles which the patriotic slackers are making for the enemy in the occupied countries. They should reflect also that a slow-down of production in any Allied country must handicap following the same results for our own fighting forces and our prospect of winning the war. Our sailors, soldiers and airmen can only fight if they have tools and food and all the other things they require. They can only fight to advantage if they have as many tools and food as those things they can have. A scarcity of anything entails lowered efficiency on the fighting front.

It means more than that. It means death and suffering and privation to the men who are facing the enemy. The better our forces are equipped the fewer of our men will be killed and wounded, the sooner the struggle will be over, the less the heritage of grief and care—and cost—we shall have to accept. This is something that has not got home as it should to civilians on this continent. Else there would be fewer tie-ups and bottle-necks along the lines of essential production. This is the only way to win the war, exclusively or particularly. It is the duty of every man and woman who is doing or could do something to keep the streams of munitions and supplies flowing in ever growing volume to the fighting front.

If it is good news that the enemy is having troubles in his production branch, it is equally bad news that the enemy is having trouble in his production branch on our side is also being hampered and cut down. There is little point and no consolation in chuckling because Hitler is not getting all the munitions he wants while Goebbels can tell his Nazi listeners about idle coal mines and closed munitions plants in Allied countries.

The advisory committee of parliament has decided that former mayor Camille Houde of Montreal should stay in the internment camp, and the Minister of Justice says he will not veto the decision. Mr. Houde was interned for preaching Fascism. The decision is being made in Canada at present, and perhaps it is to his own good to see that of the country that he remains in retirement.

Paris radio reports that the Yugoslav guerrilla fighters have routed Axis forces in Bosnia, capturing 1000 prisoners and material and some prisoners. It is to be hoped this is true. But as the Paris radio is under Nazi control and there is no substantiating report from other sources, the story is likely as not to be an advance excuse for another planned massacre of Yugoslav civilians.

Social Revolution Is Inherent in This Generation

Comintern Only Offered a Form of Leadership for Uraet

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

In the two preceding columns I have attempted to trace the history of the Comintern and show that it has been a tool for the domination of an evolving policy of the historical events.

The Comintern has ceased to be a useful instrument for Russian power and is now a dead weight.

But the consequences may be quite other than those which a snap judgment would lead one to think.

The trend to social revolution, as evidenced, is not new. It is the Soviet Union was founded in fact, the Soviet Union was founded in fact, the Soviet Union was founded in fact.

Where this middle class has not suffered from drastic inflation it has been reduced to a state of starvation, the growth of monopolies or career, reducing the influence of smaller independent business and industry, and the central crisis in agriculture is all too apparent.

The generation has been a world-wide depression of the most dolorous kind, marked by the unemployment on an unprecedented scale and of unprecedented duration.

The generation has also seen a breakdown of traditional intellectual and spiritual values and standards. Both the intellectual and moral inheritance of western civilization has undergone a remarkable atomization.

But the most obvious reaction to all this has been the growth of a new idealism in every country, in one form or another, or in one degree or another.

In all movements involving masses of people the social revolution is the line of least resistance. Curiously enough, socialism is this line of least resistance in a world dominated by monopolies and cartels, some of which have reached a size and scope of vast international empires. It seems easier to advance the social revolution than to break through the barriers of these empires and to stand up everywhere a new world state ownership or state control of the means of production.

For my part, am for a free society, and my teachers are Jefferson, Voltaire, and Rousseau, and Thoreau, rather than Marx and Engels, and the personal opinions of the Comintern, and the situation in the world.

public sentiment is in favor of ending the traffic. When I was in Stockholm recently I was told that the traffic was in fact, the traffic was in fact, the traffic was in fact.

The prime minister tried to talk Mr. Segerstedt out of his bitter criticism of the traffic. He said that the King summoned him. What transpired was a matter of course. The King has produced some good anecdotes which may or may not be legendary.

It is a shock, in a neutral country, to see a long train of German soldiers marching through Sweden, carrying about one hundred and fifty men.

One can understand how official anxieties to keep Sweden out of war in any case the social problem, particularly the problems of mass unemployment, and the central crisis in agriculture is all too apparent.

Such a social, intellectual, and moral condition is revolutionary.

generation which has suffered unprecedented collapse, and it is swiftly losing every framework of reference.

What the dislocation of the Comintern actually does is to remove the leadership from a world-wide organization, and at the same time, it isolates Russia from the Comintern and returns them to their own countries.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The first meeting of Count Fleet and Whirlaway probably will be delayed until the Jockey Club Gold Cup ($25,000 added) at Belmont Park in October. Meanwhile the Count is expected to concentrate on rich three-year-old events, and to pass up the less lucrative Saratoga Cup, which will be shifted to a metropolitan track.

Quotations from the cauliflower patch:

Chalky Wright is favored at 20 to 1 to beat Phil Terranova in his featherweight challengers' bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. Willie Pep is 5 to 4 over Sal Barteis for their feather tit at Boston June 5. Jimmy Harris is 8 to 5 over Lloyd Marshall for their Cleveland round June 8; Henry Armstrong is 7 to 4 over Ramsey Amos at Madison Square Garden, June 11.

FEWER BASEBALL BRAWLS
FORD FRICK, President of the National League, notifies that players in his circuit are having fewer brawls with umpires and others this season. "One reason for this may be found in the stipulations we are handing out. It is that no incidents do occur," he says.

Harry Mandel, former six-day bicyclist, writes that he is doing "just swell" with his new Colonial in at Patterson, N.J. Mandel says, "For the first time in my life, I have the customers going back and round."

Gooden, Cuba outfielder, recently joined his father-in-law, Herman H. Hunt, in purchasing a

Winner to Fight Pep
Wright Meets Terranova in Featherweight Bout Tonight

NEW YORK, June 4.—(AP)—Chalky Wright and Phil Terranova tangle in Madison Square Garden tonight for a chance to get a crack at Willie Pep's world featherweight championship title (as recognized in New York).

The only bite wrong with that picture is that Wes Willie meets Sal Barteis in Boston for the crown next Tuesday night—and just suppose Sal takes it away from him?

That's not going to make much difference to the New York State Athletic Commission. The awesolons, who crowned the package of Pep originally, appear at first they can undo him, too. So they've said they wouldn't recognize the issue at a 1000-1 fight—although Sal and Willie are meeting at the weight and over the title claim.

The apes Chalky and young Phil who had just 29 pro starts, are going to fight in some kind of a featherweight elimination. Anyway, they'll cut up most of the $50,000 sale to write producer Mike Jacobs expects from some 10,000 customers.

Chalky, who held the crown until Willie won it running away last December, is a 2 to 1 favorite.

Ontario Golf
TORONTO, June 4.—(CP)—The 20th Amateur and Open Championship of the Ontario Golf Association will be held over the Royal York Golf Club course June 16.

Chalky, who held the crown until Willie won it running away last December, is a 2 to 1 favorite.

Food Delegates Pledge to Work for Abundance

By J. P. SANDERSON
HONOLULU, June 4. (CP)—The representatives of 44 countries, containing three-quarters of the world's population, pledged themselves today to work for an international peace of security and abundance.

The United Nations food conference ended its 16-day history with Richard Law, foreign under-secretary of the British government and chairman of the British delegation, providing the keynote: "We have shown that we can work together."

These words were echoed by speaker delegates as the recommendations of the conference were approved formally in a brief plenary session.

RECOMMENDATIONS
The recommendations of the conference were to go to governments for consideration. They fall into four main categories:
1. Establishment of an interim commission as a prelude to creation of a permanent United Nations organization on food and agriculture to plan world production and distribution.
2. In countries such as Canada, an expanded agricultural economy both in the immediate post-war period when shortages will be acute and in the years to follow.
3. Elimination of trade barriers between the two groups of nations, food from one country to another through other methods to facilitate its distribution.
4. By educational and other methods, to increase the nutritional diet of all people.

Urges National Education Meet

WINNIPEG, June 4. (CP)—A conference of a national conference on education being called in the future was made a year yesterday by Dr. E. A. Hardy, secretary and president of the Ontario University School Trustees' Association at a conference of Canadian school trustees.

Dr. Hardy suggested the conference be sponsored by the Canada Education Association, the Canadian Teachers' Association, Canadian Teachers' Association, the National Education Council, Canadian Federation of the National Universities and the National University Council.

Dr. Hardy said it would be attended by leaders in government, industry, commerce, labor and other national bodies.
"A conference of this kind might bring leadership to focus on the whole Canadian educational system," Dr. Hardy said.

Appeal to Extend Missionary Work in West Is Made

HAMILTON, Ont., June 3. (CP)—An appeal for extension of Presbyterian Church work in western Canada was made today before the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada by Rev. John Hardwick, Saskatoon. He was supporting a resolution of the general board of missions that synodical missionaries be appointed in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and northern Ontario.

An elder from Edmonton, W. T., said that the Presbyterian Church in Canada has three synodical missionaries, two of whom would be replacing men who retired last year.

Prisoners-of-war once paid for their own release.

Daily War Map—Exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin

Main Allied supply lines from North America are shown on map. All these supplies feed into the four main bases from which the Allies will make their attack on Hitler's Europe: Britain, springboard for attack on Northern Europe; North Africa, where invasion of Italy and Southern France is indicated; Middle East, where British 9th and 10th Armies are poised for attack through Balkans; and the Soviet Union, engaging the bulk of German Army.

We Can Win This War

By W. F. Kernan (Colonel, U.S. Army)

Author of "DEFENCE WILL NOT WIN THE WAR"

The ideology of democratic doctrine, but in the cold steel and bold lead of democratic armies, and it is not, while the moon is down, by anti-Axis propaganda or underground revolution, but when the sun is up, by victorious battle, that we shall remove the threat to our civilization.

CRASHING INVINCIBILITY
To the followers of Gandhi and of Jimenez: to the Turkish Locomotives, to French Royalists who are trying to restore the glories of the Old de Bouff, following the advice of the Schlieffen plan; to the Spaniards who hope to balance the west-east thrust of Philip II on the shoulders of the Grapes; to Sweden and Swiss, South American and Portuguese; and all others who would remain neutral at a time when the very word "neutrality" is simply a diplomatic synonym for cowardice. It is high time for us to say:

"Know all men by these presents that we the people of the United States, being engaged in a war to the death with the man Adolf Hitler, all who give him aid or comfort by word or deed in any manner whatsoever do so henceforth at their peril."
To be able to say this with any degree of success we must be prepared to back it up with a victory of our fighting forces, for it is only in the field of military operations that the neutralist aims of the Axis are to be frustrated.

And here we encounter what appears to be a gigantic, and welling positions and occupying territory.

Why, then, did Hitler's armies fail to exploit the great strategic opportunity which England presented? Why was England not invaded in May, 1940?

It was what Hitler had planned and it was what Hitler had counted on. At a certain propitious moment the great conflict, England was to be invaded and occupied by the Nazi army. If this could be done at the right moment, Hitler's dream had been accomplished. The side of Britain, and before Britain could be used as a springboard for an American attack on the continent—the New Order would be safe both psychologically and strategically.

The prestige of the Anglo-Saxon would be gone forever and the balance of the war would consist in the less relentless plucking of the American Eagle, whose wings had been clipped by the timely occupation of the only available springboard for all of his careful planning, could accomplish. But wonder if we all know why.

STRATEGIC FAILURES
We have heard a lot about the close connection that exists between Hitler's blueprint of world conquest and the victories of his armies, but it would be fatal if we were to overlook the two occasions when a gaping abyss appeared between the plans of the Fuehrer and their execution by his military forces.

May, 1940, where the projected invasion of England scheduled for May, 1940, which never came off, and the projected coup de grace scheduled to deal Russia in November, 1941, which was never delivered. So that if we can be prevailed upon to stop looking at the trees of Hitler's tactical success, long enough to see the wood of his strategic failures, here at least are two decisive moments in World War II when the geopolitical instrument seemed to be too heavy for "Machiavelli's hand" to hold it.

And it may well be that, in the discrepancy between the bold outlines of victory in the plan director and the actual operation of the general strategy, that first eluded his grasp. Consider his plan for the invasion of England, so carefully formulated, so completely decisive in theory, so infamously lacking in execution.

Always before this, Hitler had managed to gain his ends. Step by step over Europe, with surprising little creaking at the joints, the Frankenstein monster of Nazi conquest had advanced, obedient to his skillful touch on the controls. Poland, Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium—each one seized, bludgeoned into unconsciousness and occupied in the bare time it took to solve the logical problem involved in the movement of the forces of occupation.

SIMPLE TACTICS
And then France! The French army, disorganized and in full retreat, was so exasperated and glibly by the Sedan penetration as hardly to be worth a thought from the standpoint of serious strategy. All France needed to wait up completely and put her under the Nazi heel was some very simple tactics, which any general with a few armored divisions and the most rudimentary knowledge of exploitation would have been capable of applying successfully.

And it should be noted here that, as regards the completion of the conquest of France, I am making a sharp distinction between strategy and tactics. After the Sedan breakthrough, there was no strategic problem whatsoever; there was merely a tactical problem of mopping up and consolidating gains of, taking

Soldier Overseas Wins Divorce From Wife in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, June 4. (CP)—

Mr. William Trevor Phillips of Michel, B.C., an active service overseas, yesterday won a divorce in British Columbia supreme court. Phillips' application for divorce was drawn from him overseas under the system set up by associations across Canada to assist members of the armed services, and the only witnesses were the respondent wife and co-respondent.

Await New One Canadians Overseas Won't Get American-Type Helmet

By BOSS MUNRO
SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, June 3. (CP)—Canada's overseas troops are not going to be issued American-type steel helmets after all.

They will continue to wear the "dugout" helmet for probably another 18 or 20 months, when they will likely to adopt a new British helmet which should be ready by then.

Heading the list were awards to Cyril Frank Uwins, one of Britain's foremost test pilots, and Frederick Ruppert Cherrill, world-famous fly-er, now 46, broke his neck while flying in the First Great War but despite the injury became a test pilot and set an international altitude record of 81,000 ft. in 1932. He was made an officer of the Order of the British Empire (O.B.E.).

It was later learned that British officials further investigation decided against awarding the American helmet. Wanting to conform to British army traditions, the Canadians dropped their plan.

MAIN DRAWBACK
One of the principal complications involved in the plan to adopt the American helmet has been the earphones used in the Canadian and British field signals system. These phones fit over the ears like the American helmet, and the American helmet worn over the side of the head and ears cannot be worn with phones.

Army authorities also considered it impractical to switch to American earplugs as that would involve a change in signals equipment right through the army. The proposed new British helmet was designed to overcome this earphone difficulty by giving more protection to the head and ears than the present helmet.

Torontonians Re-Elected As National President Of I.O.D.E. Organization

Mrs. W. B. Horkins of Toronto was elected national president of the I.O.D.E. in Canada, it was announced at the Friday morning and final session of the 43rd annual convention of the order which commenced Monday of this week at the Macdonald hotel.

Merit Rewarded

This will be the fifth term Mrs. Horkins has served as national president of the Dominion organization. Formerly she was regent of the Municipal Chapter No. 1 of the order.

Others elected to the national executive Friday included: vice-presidents, Mrs. Evelyn New, Oakville, Ont.; Mrs. F. P. McCurdy, Toronto; Mrs. John H. Chipman, Vancouver; Mrs. H. S. Angus, Toronto; Mrs. Evelyn Henderson, Toronto; Mrs. Irving Hall, Toronto; secretary, Mrs. L. B. Smart, Toronto; treasurer, Mrs. W. B. Walton, Jr., Toronto; educational secretary, Mrs. J. Dewler, London, Ont.; public relations secretary, Mrs. W. C. Hodgson, Montreal; Elcho's secretary, Mrs. P. G. Mighit, Toronto; and Elcho's secretary, Mrs. W. C. Hodgson, Montreal.

Honorary president of the national chapter is Her Royal Highness, Princess Alice, wife of the Governor General of Canada.

Honorary vice-presidents, appointed at Friday's session include: Lt. Lorraine Young, R.C.A.C., of the Royal Canadian Army personnel, who was awarded the Associated Royal Red Cross star for her services as senior nursing sister in charge of the Red Cross military hospital.

Nursing Sister Is Honored in Birthday List

Among the Albertans included in the list of Canadian Army personnel mentioned in the King's birthday list is Lt. Anne Lorraine Young, R.C.A.C., who received the Associated Royal Red Cross, second class for her work as senior nursing sister in charge of the military hospital at Red Deer.

Lt. Young joined the Canadian army in 1940 as a nursing sister. She was a graduate from the Royal Alexandra hospital in Edmonton in the 1932 class, and for several years after her graduation practised her profession in Washington, and later Hawaii.

In 1929 she returned to Edmonton and was appointed nurse in charge of the clinic at the University hospital. She remained in that post until 1940 when she joined the army. She was born in Manitoba and came to Edmonton to train as a nurse.

Plan to Discuss Camps for Summer

Plans for the holding of summer camps for young boys and girls in the city during the holiday season, will be discussed at a meeting of the group work division of the Edmonton Council of Social Agencies, at a meeting Saturday in the Masonic Temple.

Reg. T. Rose will be chairman of the meeting in which representatives of several interested organizations have been invited to attend.

The meeting will discuss in detail the development of plans previously discussed for the summer camps. Ralph Young, chairman of the special committee on leadership will present a plan for discussion.

Rev. Canon A. M. Trendell, judge of the juvenile court, will speak at the meeting of the group work division.

THE QUESTION

Should priorities be granted for the erection in Edmonton of a proposed $500,000 tuberculosis sanatorium?

HARVEY THOMPSON, clerk: There is great need for this institution. Northern Alberta, and only to house the persons suffering from this disease but available much needed accommodation in city hospitals now occupied by the patients that would be placed in the proposed sanatorium.

CAMPBELL, truck driver: There has been an easing up of regulations governing building supplies, and it is possible that the necessary priorities will be granted by the patients that would be placed in the proposed sanatorium.

PERCY HENRY, steno-typist: I cannot see any reason why the Dominion—building committee should not grant the necessary priorities to permit the building of this institution. Hospital space in this city is at a premium. The accommodation now in the city hospitals through the building of the sanatorium would greatly relieve this situation.

Supplies Might Be Taken From Province to Sustain Essential War Industries

The Alberta coal situation will be materially affected by the nation-wide coal strike in the United States, unless it is settled very soon, J. L. Irwin, statistician in the provincial government department of lands and mines, stated Friday.

Mr. Irwin said the demand for coal in Alberta is already great, and with none being imported from the United States, the province is bound to be greatly increased.

Monthly coal production for the province this year is greater than for the corresponding months of 1942, he added. The April production was 560,325 tons, an increase of 38,471 tons over April, 1942. The year 1943 made a record in coal production in the province.

It would be impossible to say at this time whether the coal strike is a continuation to their 1942 monthly "as the strike makes 1943 another record year."

PERCY HENRY: A serious shortage exists in labor and materials in the province, and this is having its effect on the coal mining industry.

For instance, a shortage of lumber and other building materials has created a shortage of heavy timbers used in coal mining, and there are no reserves for the coal industry to expand to produce more coal.

In addition, where mines have experienced a lay-off, repairs must be made to tunnels and shafts before men can work them. These repairs entail a great deal of labor and labor shortage, these repairs entail a great deal of labor and labor shortage, these repairs entail a great deal of labor and labor shortage.

Health Plans Inadequate Say Chiropractors

OTTAWA, June 4.—(CP)—The Dominion Council of Chiropractors, in a brief prepared for presentation to the committee of the House of Commons select committee, submitted that Canada's proposed Health Insurance Act is inadequate in that it does not provide for recognition of chiropractic "or any health agency except orthodox medicine."

The brief, presented by John S. Burton of Vancouver, general secretary and counsel for the chiropractic body, set forth that chiropractic was an established and recognized health profession in Canada; that chiropractors were qualified by education and training to treat ailments of the Canadian people; that a large part of Canada's population depended upon chiropractic for its health needs; and that citizens demanded the right to choose their own health practitioners.

BELIEVE IN PLAN

The brief said chiropractors believed in the principle of health insurance, "which we take to mean in effect that the people of Canada should receive the greatest possible health protection."

"We submit that chiropractic being the second largest health profession in the world, is entitled to a place in the health insurance plan, and that the public of Canada has the right to have its health protected by the method of their choice."

Chiropractic was first recognized in four provinces, Ontario, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, and in the territories in these provinces numbered 371, or more than five-sixths of the total practicing in Canada, the brief pointed out.

The workers' compensation acts of these provinces, Ontario, Alberta and British Columbia, recognize chiropractic, and the injured workers may avail themselves of chiropractic care, the brief stated.

2,000,000 PATIENTS

During the past several months the Dominion Council has conducted a survey, and from the results obtained it was found that there are at least 1,500,000 treatments given by chiropractors in Canada annually. "We believe that, based on our survey, we are absolutely justified in saying that at least 2,000,000 persons in Canada valued themselves of chiropractic treatment in the last 10 years, allowing for the number of patients repeating."

"In other words, it is proposed in this health insurance act to force 2,000,000 people in Canada to pay annual contributions to the health insurance fund, a minimum of $25 and a maximum of $75 per year, and at the same time deny them the right to go to a chiropractor unless they pay for this service out of their own pockets."

Outstanding was the dance team of Meia and St. John, whose adaptation of the Auerbach and Adagio dances were thrilling Grace and sparkling acrobatics featured the Auerbach and Adagio dances.

The opening dance routine was a bit later than the one which appeared on the stage, dressed as for day in their uniforms, but when the music started, the dancers were in the spot for costumes, and the audience to the extent that eye-appeal was not found lacking.

Pat MacIntosh, manager and master-of-ceremonies of the show, played the comedy part and was particularly a parody on the "Boys Go Bye" brought gas of laughter.

Metals of ceremonies Betty Robinson and the daughter of Mademoiselle from Amnere.

"You Can Say No" to a woman's profession, she brought comedy on an instrument that she played almost as her own five-foot.

Dancing fans in the audience were thrilled with the Auerbach and Adagio dances, the Ladies' brother and sister, who tapped their way to the applause on every appearance, and Norma Lawrie, who appeared in "Kiss the Boys Goodbye."

The last act, the chorus' salute to the military, which was a form of a military routine, in styles modelled on the uniforms of the three services, although appropriate, was a bit disappointing.

Some of the chorus' members reminded one of a well-known Canadian band, the "The Royal Canadian Mounted Police."

While fully tensely awaited an invasion by Allied forces, a Berlin broadcast told the German army is "preparing for battles on the largest possible scale."

The Agria radio said the Italian government had ordered military trials for deserters from Italian war factories. Reuters' News Agency reported.

London newspapers continued to trumpet the Allied threat to Italy's defenses and maintain that the German command is preparing to fight.

The overseas commentator of the German radio was quoted as saying: "The British are talking daily about an invasion of Europe being imminent."

DEFENSIVE OFFENSIVE

Referring to the "assumption" that the Germans would remain on the defensive to Russia during the summer — an assumption which arose from a recent broadcast to German listeners by Lt.-Gen. Kurt Dietmar, Nazi military spokesman — the overseas commentator said:

"The base of Europe is strong and wide that it permits only defensive but offensive actions."

The German general staff is keeping its plans secret, the commentator added, but he asserted that Germany is preparing for the coming battles on the largest possible scale."

Greater Quotas Farm Machinery To Be Available

OTTAWA, June 4.—(CP)—The Price Board today issued an order making effective enlarged quotas for certain types of farm machinery.

The order provides for an overall increase of between 10 and 15 per cent in quotas of farm machinery, as well as increasing the quota for repair parts from 150 per cent to 160 per cent of 1940 sales of such parts.

Since this order was prepared, the board said, still further improvement in the farm machinery manufacturing industry has made it possible to issue a further order exempting a considerable list of farm equipment from all ration restrictions.

BRINGS SOME RELIEF

This order, which will bring some relief to the farming industry in general, chiefly affects the field of Canadian manufacture, but also covers some types of imported machinery. The relaxation has been made possible by increased allocations of steel and the co-operation of the United States Production

It also increases quotas of such items as milk cooler units, electric fence controllers, hay forks, slings and attachments, hand-operated seeders, etc.

Quotas on farm equipment have been increased substantially in items such as milking machines, etc.

100 per cent for their 1943 quotas for domestic and imported types of cream separators, up 35 per cent and having and feed crop handling equipment, in which substantial increases also have been made.

Nazis Strengthen Balkan Defences

By GEORGE TUCKER

CATRO, June 1.—(Delayed)—(AP)—German defenses in the Balkans are being steadily strengthened and in Greece the German have taken over all Ploiești coastal defenses and all key cities and towns, authentic sources disclosed today.

At present, these sources said, there are roughly 17 Axis divisions in Greece, the majority of which are Italian. In Yugoslavia there are approximately 25 divisions, the majority of which are also Italian, and which are composed wholly of infantry units.

BETH CARTER, WAAC

By LORETTE COOPER

"HAI! Was there a soldier's voice called."

Beth felt a tremendous surge of relief.

"Officer of the post," she replied. She had heard sentries before, but she had been challenged by them. She did not know whether this was the proper answer, but if it served to obtain identification for her it would do.

"Advance slowly, officer of the post and be recognized."

She moved slowly toward the voice. She could see no sign, she realized what a target she would be for a cat-eyed sentry if she aroused suspicion.

Suddenly a powerful flashlight was beamed on her—her only a second, just long enough for the sentry to see her, but not long enough for her to make certain within even a few feet where the beam was coming from.

"Continue to advance," the sentry ordered.

She took another two steps, then fell.

"I... I can't, I'm injured!"

The sentry was at her side in an instant.

"You're Lieutenant Carter?" he asked.

"I never expected to see you here, sir." Then he was consoled.

"Or should I say sir?"

"Sir suits me," Beth said.

He turned the light in his beam carefully guarded so that it would not shine vertically onto her ankle. It was swollen, despite the wrapping.

"I've got to get you in," he said. "It's a long way, but we should be able to have a stretcher here in a couple of hours."

Beth heard the anti-aircraft guns again. Two hours would be too late.

Then she saw the sentry unstrap a case from under his arm.

HOLD EVERYTHING

"I got down within a few minutes of the time your radio message came through—they signaled me to let me know that my identity was established. You can imagine I was spending some pretty bad minutes up there."

"You were in a dangerous place," Beth said. "I heard the anti-aircraft gun."

"I wasn't thinking of myself," Beth said, and he took her hand in his. "I was thinking of how you might have been killed in that jump. I don't know anyone else who'd have done it."

"Forget it," Beth said. "Anything we can have done the same thing. There were two of us. I couldn't fly a plane, so there was nothing left for me except to jump."

"Have it your way — I'm going to tell a different story in dispatches. What I have to tell the general will read like fiction."

LAFF A DAY

"Hi, old fat, foolish and Four-ill!"

CURIOUS WORLD

"When I introduced myself, all I did was to offer my hand and say, 'shake, kid!'"

THE MORMON, WHEN RAIL, GIVES OFF ABOUT AROUND BROADWAY AS IT DOES WHEN AT THE QUARTER.

NOV. FISHES

CANNOT SEE WHEN OUT OF THE WATER.

IF ONE PLAYS THE SHARD DOWN, THEY ARE STILL LUCKY.

THEY ARE STILL LUCKY.

THEY ARE STILL LUCKY.

THEY ARE STILL LUCKY.

THEY ARE STILL LUCKY.

THEY ARE STILL LUCKY.

THEY ARE STILL LUCKY.

THEY ARE STILL LUCKY.

THEY ARE STILL LUCKY.

He looked at her eyes. She was trying to be modest, and she was succeeding, but she couldn't succeed in keeping a blush from her cheeks.

"It's not over yet, though, Beth," Beth said. "We're expecting a raid within a few hours. I haven't seen any sign of the Japs yet, but I believe the Japs put a message through to his base, wherever it may be. I'd say there will be a raid by tomorrow evening at the absolute latest, and maybe by tonight. By the way, how do you feel?"

The medical captain interrupted.

"If you think I'm going to give this girl a CC pill and mark her duty over my head, Major."

"Well, comrade," Beth said. "Well, I'll wait for the CC pill, but I'll be marked duty. I'm able to sit up, and when I get some nourishment I can move a telephone or watch a spotter's chart or do something else. You need every man you get out in the field."

Major. I know darned little about this island, but I think I know this much. I'm in this fight to the end!"

McCoy Health Service

Due to the inability of readers to obtain the various foods suggested in the weekly menus which have been appearing in this column since Friday, it has been decided to discontinue the service for the duration, or until normalcy returns in the food situation.

However, readers are invited to send for special articles on diet and food combinations, which will help to provide good wholesome and nutritious meals with the foods available.

HAY FEVER

Hay fever is sometimes called hay asthma, or summer catarrh, and is marked by its characteristic symptoms of sneezing, the discharge of watery mucus from the nose, and a feeling of fulness within the nasal membrane. The symptoms also include watering and itching of the eyes.

The attacks may return at the same time each year and the patient may thus be able to predict in advance the date upon which the attack will start.

Although many hay fever victims are sensitive to pollen, there are other substances capable of acting as exciting causes of hay fever in those who are susceptible. For example, the face powder, certain kinds of ink, feathers, furs and different foods seem to act as exciting causes in some instances.

The first treatment advised consisted of telling the patient to remove himself from the substance to which he was sensitive. Thus, those sensitive to pollen were sent to other districts free from pollen.

The patient having the means to follow this advice sometimes received good results—sometimes they succeeded in finding a new brilliant in the new neighborhood.

In securing relief from hay fever, the most important point to keep in mind is not to try to take the patient away from the irritant, but to try to restore to him the state of being in which he is enjoyed by the person who never has hay fever.

Certainly, there is some systemic cause present which gives the pollen or other substance the power to bring on the abnormal reaction.

A treatment which is based on removing the systemic cause will help many patients to overcome hay fever to such an extent that they remain completely free from it, regardless of how often they come in contact with the same pollen which previously has caused the attack.

Although the attack may be brought about by exposure to the pollen of various plants, and exposure to other substances, such exposure is not the main cause.

The fundamental cause is really of constitutional origin and the attack is due to the discharge of irritating toxins through the mucous membrane of the nose.

These toxins are found in a blood stream surcharged with end-products of carbohydrates and fatty foods. Because of the inability of the eliminative organs to throw off these waste materials they begin to accumulate, and a portion is discharged through the mucous membrane. The membrane becomes congested, and thus prepared, will be irritated sufficiently by the breathing in of pollen to produce the attack of hay fever.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Letters, stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1131 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Italian Gunners Urged to Shoot Falling Airmen

LONDON, June 4.—(CP)—A Rome radio broadcast recorded by Reuters Agency yesterday gave extracts from an article in the newspaper L'Espresso urging Italian gunners to "get more practice" by shooting Allied airmen forced to parachute to the ground.

"A parachute comes down slowly and concentrated target area," saying that "if this war is to be a total one then let it be so."

Change is an easy passage. It takes character to stay in one place and be happy there.

Railways See No Need Change Laws on Labor

OTTAWA, June 4.—(CP)—Canadian railway, through the Railway Association of Canada, yesterday said before the National War Labor Board that they see no necessity for sweeping changes in labor legislation.

The railways said in their submission that more than 20 years experience with their employees had proven the effectiveness of voluntary collective bargaining. Any widespread changes in legislation would be likely to create difficulties rather than remove them, the brief said.

Guest Children Being Advised To Join Forces

OTTAWA, June 4.—(CP)—Officials at the office of Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, United Kingdom high commissioner, said tonight that British children who are guests in Canada were being advised, when they approached the age of military service, to enlist in the Canadian forces or to return to Britain.
